NEW OFFENSIVES ARE ANSWERS TO POPE'S PEACE PROPOSALS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Rome, Sunday, Aug. 19.—Commenting on the new Italian advance the press says that it, like the British attack in Flanders, will be of service if it demonstrated how the people and armies of the allied countries feel toward the premature peace proposals of Pope Benedict. It is said Austria apparently realizes the gravity of the situation, as announcement is made that Emperor Charles is soon to visit the Austro-Italian front, presumably to encourage his troops.

The official Austrian statement of yesterday said the Italians had begun an offensive on a 37 mile front from the region of Tolmino to a point near the Adriatic. The struggle was said to be raging with the greatest bitterness. Yesterday's Italian official statement did not mention the offensive.

SHIP BUILDERS ASK METAL MEN TO JOIN STRIKE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, Aug. 20.—Labor leaders in charge of the strike in shipyards of the New York district today asserted that 250,000 metal workers in various parts of the country would be asked to declare a sympathetic strike unless a settlement is reached today. Spokane, Wash., Aug. 20.—A general strike of the Industrial Workers of the World, called as a protest against holding its members in jail without charges, supposed to begin today in Montana, Washington, Idaho and Oregon, did not get a good start, according to reports received here.

James Rowan, district secretary of the I. W. W. in the four northwestern states and 26 others who were arrested here yesterday by national guardsmen, remained in the county jail as military prisoners. Their disposition will be discussed by Major Clement Wilkins, who made the arrests, and the United States district attorney and marshal.

Rowan and 26 other alleged members of the I. W. W. were taken into custody yesterday by Idaho national guardsmen on patrol duty here. Investigation of the individual cases of each man was promised today by Major Clement Wilkins, under whose direction the arrests were made.

The problem facing America is not only one of supplying the immediate demand of the allies but one which is more far reaching in its significance. As the war goes on there will be a constant lessening of the capital stock of the world's food animals. Among our western allies the demand outruns every day the decreasing production, and as shipping becomes further shortened by submarine destruction, further destruction of herds must ensue.

The food administration believes that the only immediate solution of the problem lies in reduction of consumption and elimination of waste.

NORWEGIAN VESSEL DAMAGED BY FIRE AT NEW YORK DOCK

New York, Aug. 20.—The Norwegian steamer Christian Bors of 4076 gross tons, was damaged to the extent of $1,000,000 by fire early today while lying at her dock in South Brooklyn. The steamer arrived recently from Buenos Aires and had about completed the discharge of a cargo of hides.

Several Brooklyn fire companies and three fire boats fought the blaze, and had it under control two hours after it was discovered. The origin of the fire has not been determined. The Christian Bors was owned in Bergen and was under charter to the Prince Line.

The British steamship Baron Jedburgh, a vessel of 4418 gross tons, discharging a cargo of sugar and glucose, was also badly damaged by the fire.

After an investigation the fire department announced that reports that the fire had been caused by bombs were unfounded. Spontaneous combustion was responsible, it was stated.

The recent release of a large number of members of the organization held in central Washington jails brought a decision at local headquarters not to call the strike and the arrests in Spokane did not change this decision.

REGISTERED MEN ARE DESERTERS IF THEY FAIL TO RESPOND

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—Men who avoid appearing before their local draft boards for examinations and who persist in opposition when called to the colors by the adjutant general are "deserters from the army and subject to full military penalty," according to instructions received today by United States District Attorney Stuart R. Bolin from the department of justice.

The official orders instructs local boards to certify to the district boards all registered men who fail to appear for examination, as accepted without examination. All these men who fail to appear before the district board to claim exemption lose their right to such exemptions and their names will be certified to the adjutant general as persons ready for service in the national army.

Reports to the district attorney here indicate there are many men subjects to the new order.

"After having recently received an announcement that a renewed attack of the enemy in an attempt to break up our sea front in Flanders had been successfully repelled, I have today by a visit to my fleet and the island fortress of Heligoland been enabled to convince myself of the strength and security of this front too. I express my warm appreciation to all the high sea forces on the water, under water and in the air, and to the fortress of Heligoland for their untiring, self-sacrificing and successful labor by means of which they have kept firmly in view and attained this aim. May the fleet remain conscious that the confidence of myself and the Fatherland repose firmly on it."

"I'M WITH YOU BUT HELPLESS" CONNIE WIRED THE KAISER

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
London, Aug. 20.—An Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says that among the diplomatic documents found in Athens since the change in government is a dispatch of Former King Constantine written a few days after the war began in response to a message from Emperor William, who proposed Greece should range herself on the side of the central powers. Constantine said in his reply:

"The emperor well knows my personal sympathies, as well as my political opinions attract me to his side. Nevertheless, it is impossible for me to understand in what manner I could be useful to him in mobilizing my army. The Mediterranean is at the mercy of the united fleet of England and France, which could destroy our navy and merchant marine, occupy our islands and above all prevent concentration of my army, which could be effected only by sea, in the absence of railway communication. Without it being in our power to be useful in any particular, we would be wiped off the map. I am necessarily of the opinion that neutrality is imposed upon us."

Gottlieb von Jagow, then German foreign secretary, replied to Constantine that Emperor William would understand the necessity of maintaining neutrality for the present. He advised Constantine to reach an understanding with Sofia and Constantinople.

PRISON SENTENCE FOR CROOKED DRAFT BOARD IN NEW YORK

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, Aug. 20.—Dr. S. J. Bernfeld and Louis I. Cherey, indicted members of exemption board No. 39, today entered pleas of guilty to a charge of conspiracy to obstruct the draft law when they were about to be placed on trial.

They were sentenced to two years each in the federal penitentiary Atlanta.

Kalman Gruber, not a member of the board, but indicted with them on the same charge, elected to stand trial.

They were charged with accepting money from the eligibles who filed exemption claims.

The specific count in the indictment for conspiracy to which Bernfeld and Cherey pleaded guilty charged them with accepting a bribe of $300 from a registrant to exempt him. It was disclosed, however, by Assistant United States District Attorney Stanton that the defendant had accepted $3,000 in bribe money. He told the court they had paid back a portion of the money and had promised to make good the balance as soon as possible.

Judge Manton, in passing sentence, said that although the maximum penalty provided by the statute was imprisonment for two years and a fine of $10,000, the government did not wish to accept tainted money in the form of a fine.

The task of obtaining a jury in the case against Gruber was begun immediately.

"Lord Effington, the Little Hal of 'The Squaw Man,' has grown to be a young man and has left his estates and his wife in England and is chief of the Indian police on a western reservation. He has deserted his wife because she is addicted to the use of morphine. She has fallen in love with young Lord Yester. Hal is interested in the education of his people as is Wah-n-a-gi, a Carlisle graduate who is teaching the agency school.

David Ladd, the Indian agent and also secret representative for the asphalt trust, has discovered asphalt on the reservation. Hal made the survey and knows the asphalt belongs to the Indians. Ladd and the Indian medicine man, as well as Hal, are in love with Wah-n-a-gi. Ladd gives Hal $15,000 worth of asphalt stock, but Hal exposes the plan to the Indians and for a time the trust is halted.

Hal is called to England, and leaves the stock with John McCloud, the agency missionary, to be turned over to the department of justice. McCloud is taken ill and is at the point of death when Appah comes in to steal Wah-n-a-gi. McCloud raises himself and kills the Indian. Hal is about to return when he discovers his wife is a morphine fiend and he decides to remain and care for her, although he has agreed to divorce her so that she can marry Lord Yester. The department of justice persuades him to return and assist in the prosecution of the asphalt trust. He reaches the ranch on Christmas eve just in time to stop Ladd from stealing the stock from the dead "missionary's" effects. He tells Wah-n-a-gi of his love for her but that he must go back to England. She goes out into the snow to kill herself by the grave of Nat-a-rich, Hal's Indian mother who killed herself for his father. Hal receives a message that his wife has taken an overdose of morphine and he is free to marry the Indian girl. He rushes through the snow and finds Wah-n-a-gi just in time to prevent her plunging a knife into her breast—and they are at last made happy.

ALHAMBRA. Tonight and Tomorrow. The pretty story of little "Pep" O'Mally, a child of poverty and an optimist, is told in "The Butterfly Girl," third of the Margarita Fischer series of Mutual-Star productions, produced by the Pollard Picture Plays company.

One of the principal fascinations of the play is its portrayal of "Pep's" childish faith in and love for everything that lays claim to beauty on "The Isthmus" San Diego's big fair amusement street.

production. The story deals with the adventures of a young Eastern newspaper man who purchases a paper in an unregenerate western cattle center, which persists in clinging to the old ideals of gun-fighting, dance halls, etc. Monty gets a warm reception on his arrival, but takes it good-naturedly and immediately proceeds to uplift the town. There is a plenty of cowboy horsemanship and fighting throughout the picture and a pretty, though strenuous romance, involving the editor and the daughter of the pony.

Music. A Song for "The Road."

The National Arts Club, which recently offered a prize of $250 for the best American war song, (which was not awarded), has now increased this sum to $500, which it offers for the best musical settings of Daniel M. Henderson's poem, "The Road to France." Copies of the poem may be obtained from the National Arts Club Defense Committee, Gramercy Park, New York. The competition closes Sept. 15, 1917.

Mrs. Lucille Harrington Dole whose impersonations and recitations at the Music Festival in Gramercy Park, before last week, were so well received by the Peckskill audience, is evidently making good at her profession, what other newspapers and magazines are saying, says the Peckskill, N. GOVERNMENT RECIPE FOR CANNING SWEET CORN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Can as soon after the corn is gathered as possible. Remove husks and silk. Blanch by placing in boiling water for five minutes. Remove and dip quickly into an out of cold water. Cut the corn from the cob and pack directly into hot jars or cans to within 1/4 inch of the top. Pour in enough boiling water to fill the container. Add one level teaspoonful of salt to each part. Put rubber rings and caps of jars into position but do not tighten the wire clamps. Seal the cans completely.

Place containers on a false bottom of wooden slate, or wire mesh in a vessel of water deep enough to completely cover the containers. Keep the water boiling for three hours.

Remove the jars; tighten covers; invert jars to test seal and cool (not in draft, as jars might crack.)

Tin cans may be placed in cold water for rapid cooling.

After the containers are cool store in a dark, cool place.

Rapid preparation for canning is especially desirable for corn if a good quality of product is to be obtained. The best results can be secured when one person cuts the corn from the cob and another fills the containers. If it is necessary for one person to work alone she should cut off sufficient corn to fill one jar; pour on boiling water, add salt, place the rubber and caps in position and put the jar or container in hot water at once. The extra cooking which will be given to the cans first filled will not be injurious and a better produce will be secured than if the cut corn were allowed to stand until all jars were filled.

HOW TO BEAUTIFY A SUMMER SOILED FACE

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by sun, wind and dirt. Ordinary "mercerized" wax, used like cold cream, will transform the sallow, old complexion into one of smooth, delicate and velvety softness. It literally peels off the weathered surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The worn-out skin comes off, not in patches, but in fine, thin particles, leaving no evidence of the old time. The younger, healthier under-skin, forming the new complexion, is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercerized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any tan, or reddened, pimpled, freckled, or blotchy skin. Apply before retiring, wash it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, with cold, with violent exercise, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles. A wash lotion made as follows: powdered salsolite, 1 oz., dissolve in witch hazel, 1/2 pint. This gives immediate results.

TROLLEY LINE HAZARDS.

Recent months have been somewhat free from serious transportation accidents. The Safety First Campaign is working. But while conditions on the railroads are improving, other perils are made manifest, as in the serious accident occurring at North Brantford, Ont., where a head-on collision of trolley cars a few days ago killed eighteen people. Many fast running electric lines are subject to like hazards.

These perils are augmented by the fact that many electric lines are not as prosperous as when they started. They used to be called the poor man's automobile, and people rode on them for pleasure. On pleasant afternoons many tired mothers and picnic parties were out riding for fun. After the novelty wore out, this source of revenue fell off. Expenses increased and many lines that looked like a bonanza at first found themselves up against hard times.

Such conditions lead to economies which may affect safe operation. A road whose stockholders are clamoring for dividends feels too poor to keep up with the best safety equipment. The roads are often not able to pay wages enough to get motormen of the responsible type that operate railroad locomotives. Frequently also employees are worked long hours and are not physically and mentally alert.

Whether conditions like these could have had anything to do with this Connecticut accident or not, they exist everywhere electric lines run at high speed. They affect a wide range of the people, as they are one of the country's important transportation links. They are used for business and travel purposes by people from remote distances.

Although a road may be hard up, yet its management should remember that it must ally itself with the Safety First movement. Good equipment is necessary, but vigilance counts even more. Rigid obedience of rules should be required and employees should be given decent periods of rest.

The Ohio Electric, which operates the trolley lines in Newark and the lines to Granville, to Zanesville, and to Columbus, is suffering from increased expenses and jitney opposition, with no corresponding increase in earnings. This company pays $10,000 a month in wages to Newark men, it has a large investment and pays a considerable sum into the county treasury every year. While there are many who are ready always to criticize the management and complain of service, it is only fair to consider the problems that confront the management and it is only just when complaining of facilities and lack of extensions to remember that present day conditions make it difficult for some corporations to do what they would do in ordinary times. Labor and material and cost of operation are higher than ever yet the cost of a ride is no higher.

LOST BAGGAGE.

One of the annoyances of the vacation season is the amount of baggage that goes astray on the railroad. The misery of lost trunks is a fertile subject of conversation on the summer hotel plaza. It is a bad business proposition also, and many is the commercial traveller's sample trunk that goes astray.

Express companies report this summer an annual number of complaints on lost baggage. They lay the trouble to the shortage of labor. They say they can not find many of the responsible men they used to get. With help so scarce they have to take any one who comes along, regardless whether he has any sense or not.

Also much complaint is made of the carelessness of the public. Packages are sent to stations without any tag or only an illegible one. Tags frequently get torn off in transit. Checks and labels are often mere scrawls written by some one who is hurried or irresponsible.

If there are half a dozen clamorous people begging to get their stuff on the train just about to leave, the baggage man is going to scratch off his address in handwriting that looks like an Egyptian hieroglyphic. If he has an address to look up, he gets the wrong town. While disappointed people are fuming and fretting, the article gathers cobwebs in some remote office where no one has any idea of the location of the owner. Everything considered, it is a wonder that baggage goes as straight as it does.

There are a lot of people now who quietly slip a coin across. The man who merely stands on his rights and feels that in justice he should pay but one price for one service, gets poor attention. However the man who is considerate and gets his baggage to the station in good season to get a train, will get service that can not be had if he waits until the rush.

TREASON.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

A correspondent wants to know whether it is treason to talk against the United States. He says that in an argument it was claimed that treason consisted of making war against this country. He should read the constitution and learn at first hand what treason is, but since he has not done so we gladly give him the information.

Section Three of Article Three of the constitution says: "Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort." The language seems plain enough.

Every one understands what "levying war" means. It is making war, or engaging in war, or taking such action as is a part of war, such as preparations for war.

"Adhering to the enemy" denotes a mental attitude. One adheres to the church by believing in the church and identifying himself with the church membership. If one believes in Germany at this time by way of illustration, and associates with those who believe in Germany, and takes part in contentions favoring Germany, he is certainly guilty of treason to the United States, because he adheres to the enemy of the United States. Talking or writing in favor of the enemy, or saying that which encourages the enemy, certainly comes under the definition of treason. It is giving aid and comfort to the enemy to defend it in controversy, for it tends to destroy faith in this country's cause, and to strengthen faith in the enemy's cause.

The penalty for treason is death. Every nation at war freely inflicts the penalty upon guilty persons, and we should do the same. There are a number of traitors in this country who ought to be executed for treason, and we shall welcome the day when an example is made of them, and the nation thereby rid of its enemies within.

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM.

(Toledo Blade.)

At the time they announce a further curtailment in passenger service, the railroad managers deserve a great deal of commendation for the savings in this direction that they have already achieved.

The appeal to cut out unnecessary travel is issued a few months ago by Washington, fell on deaf ears so far as the general public's concerned. Don't Waste

The State War Board says today: Don't Waste bread. Millions of barrels of flour must be shipped.

Over in England they value it almost as gold dust!

A British hotel man was fined $300 for permitting a loaf of bread to go to waste.

Bread, though stale, can be used.

Dried bread crumbs may be partly substituted for flour in batters and doughs.

Ever hear of bread crumb griddle cakes? Try this:

One and one-half cups fine stale bread crumbs; 1-2 cup scalded milk; 2 eggs; 1-2 teaspoonful salt; 2 teaspoons melted fat; 1-2 cup flour; 4 teaspoons baking powder. Add milk and fat to crumbs; soak until soft; add beaten eggs, then flour which is sifted with salt and baking powder.

"French Barchet" sounds like a luxury. It isn't—it's a war economy. Make it this way:

Fill baking dish with alternate layers of stale bread that has been sliced, spread with butter and cut into small squares, and of cheese, grated or ground. Moisten thoroughly with a mixture made as follows—1 cup milk; 1 egg, salt, cayenne pepper and mustard. Bake until browned on top.

Spirit of the Press

Salute the Flag.

When the tricolor passes in France, every hat comes off, and devout women cross themselves.

Are the Stars and Stripes less worthy of a free man's honor than the tricolor? We hope not, and now while there are too many signs of half-hearted devotion and divided allegiance, we all ought to join in every act of patriotic ceremony, for our own sake and also for the sake of those whose loyalty needs a sharp awakening.

Three Years Ago Today.

Germans in Brussels; Belgian army retreated to Antwerp.

than the story of the gardening supervised somewhere in France by Gen. Petain, commander-in-chief of the French army. Taking possession of a villa as his headquarters, he obtained permission to replace the spacious lawns and flower gardens surrounding it with fields of vegetables for supplying the general staff. Every morning he arises early to join the soldiers who spend their leisure hours off duty in cultivating the garden. It is a convincing example of the democracy that is fighting the autocracy of Prussia.

The Price Problem.

A statement of policy regarding prices to be paid by the United States, its people, and its Allies, for war-time necessities, is said to be coming soon from the new War Industries Board. Whenever a just price for a commodity has been fixed for the Federal government, that price will certainly apply, allowing for wholesale and retail rates, to sales to the people.

The statement ought to indicate just how the fair price will be arrived at. Many methods are suggested, each involving highly complex problems.

A month ago it was said that the Federal Trade Commission should ascertain production cost, and that the government should fix a price based on addition to this of a profit, to make fair wages possible.

Again, how is the government to enforce its will under the limited and not always direct powers granted by the food bill and espionage act.—New York Evening Post.

Young Generals Wanted.

Gen. Pershing wants only young men as generals—men say under 45. We must give the young men a chance. We old "legionaries" must not think of practicing all the patriotism there is in the land.

The age of 45 fixed by Gen. Pershing is pretty high.

The greatest generals in the wars of other days won their stars when they were younger than that.

Grant, Sheridan, Sherman won their fame under 45.

On the other hand there is Gen. Joffre, who is over 60.

And von Hindenburg, who is over 70.

The consideration that governs in fixing the age limit is not the physical condition, as it is the fact of a man's disposition to push ahead and take risks and not be too conservative.

A TIME FOR STRONG NERVES

Many people are worrying themselves sick over the high cost of living. War time with its excitement and hysteria is a trial to the strongest nerves. To those whose nervous systems are run down by overwork or worry, to those who are on the verge of neurasthenia, it is a time of danger.

There is no tonic for the nerves that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. There is no form of debility that does not rob the nerves of nourishment. The remedy therefore for nervous breakdown is a tonic that will build up the general health, revitalizes the blood and enable it to carry to the nerves the elements that they need.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic for this condition because they are non-alcoholic and neurosthenic patients should avoid alcoholic stimulants.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has published a little book on nervous disorders that contains a chapter on neurasthenia in which the symptoms are fully described and the correct treatment given. The booklet is free on request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by your own druggist or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

Defining a Wife.

The pretty schoolteacher had asked her class for the best original definition of "wife," and the boy in the corner promptly responded, "A rib."

She looked at him reproachfully and nodded to the boy with dreamy eyes, who seemed anxious to say something.

"Man's guiding star and guardian angel," he said in response to the nod.

"A helpmeet," put in a little flaxen-haired girl.

"One who soothes in adversity," suggested a demure little girl.

"One who makes a man bustle," was the next suggestion.

"And keeps him from making a fool of himself," put in another girl.

"Some one for a man to find fault with when things go wrong," said a sorrowful little maiden.

"Stop there," said the schoolteacher.

"That's the best definition,"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Railway Journeys of Long Ago.

It was only the adventurous who dared to face a railway journey in 1823. A writer of that time commenting on the proposed line to Woolwich, remarked, "We would as soon expect the people of Woolwich to suffer themselves to be fired off upon one of Conqueror's rockets as trust themselves to the mercy of such a machine going at such a rate." The third class carriage of those days was a thing of horror.

"It had no roof and no seats," writes J. C. Wright. "Into this the passengers were packed and had to stand during the whole journey or if there was room to squat on the floor, exposed to the rain or sun and bombarded by sparks emitted from the engine. Second class passengers were kindly advised to provide themselves with gauze spectacles and to sit as far from the engine as possible."—London Spectator.

HORNED TOADS ARE NOT BEAUTIES BUT THEY'RE INTERESTING

"Aint they awful lookin' creatures? What funny looking things on their backs."

This can be heard most anytime now-a-days in front of the display window of the Newark Auto Supply company.

W. D. Bell brought one of the "creatures" into our well appointed offices this morning and imparted the information that they were horned toads, natives of Texas.

He received them from one of his friends in the lone star state, where he formerly lived. The toads live on ants and will completely clean out an ant-hill. Texans allow the toads in the house to keep it free from flies.

CANNED FUN FOR FOOD CAMPAIGN

Good Advice In Humorous Ditties From Washington.

PRODUCTION'S BIG INCREASE

In All Sections of the United States the Response to Appeals For More Food This Year Has Been Gratifying. Verses Issued by National Emergency Food Garden Commission.

Much has been written about gardening, canning and drying of fruits and vegetables in recent weeks. This has had a most beneficial effect, as shown by recent government reports, which indicate a tremendous gain in the production of foodstuffs in every section of the country. The National Emergency Food Garden Commission recently issued the following verses, which, in a lighter vein, urge the planting and canning of vegetables:

There was a great czar in Berlin
Whose subjects were all growing thin.
In good English he said,
"Bally winter I dread
Because we have nothing to eat."

The young folks of Lakewood, N. J., said: "We'll make gardening pay.
We'll stink to the work.
We won't dodge it or shrink.
For this isn't work; this is play."

A maiden who lived in St. Joe
Wrote east to her Washington beau,
"I can't be there in June,
It is really too soon.
For I'm busy with dad's westward ho."

A charming young bud named Marie
Wrote to Mrs. Von Stuyvesant Lee,
"I'm begging your pardon;
But I'm working my garden.
And can't get away for your tea."

Said Miss Gladys Clarissa McTanner:
"I've abandoned my player pianist.
Art is all very good,
But it won't supply food,
So I'm playing my tunes on my canner."

Mrs. Sadieh has given up sighing
At the cost of the food she's been buying.
For she's got 'em all beat
On the good things to eat.
Since she's taken to canning and drying.

High diddle diddle, this life is a riddle,
For prices have jumped o'er the moon.
But plant a food garden on some vacant lot
And prices will tumble down soon.

Rock-a-baby baby in the tree top,
Father is hoeing his home garden crop.
Soon he will harvest enough for us all
And high cost of living will have a bad fall.

NOW IT IS "LIBERTY BREAD."

Loaf of Flour Substitutes to Have New Name Given It.

"Liberty bread" is the term to be encouraged by the food administration, as applied to loaves made of substitutes for wheat flour, rather than the phrase "war bread" used in other warring countries.

"The name "war bread" gives the impression that there is something in favor about the breads made of substitutes for wheat flour," says an announcement. "The fact is that breads made from wheat substitutes are healthy and just as tasty as those made from wheat." Use of substitutes will be encouraged at the food training camps to be held in connection with the fairs and expositions in the near future.
